PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The Public Utility Law Project of New York ("PULP") hereby submits this Statement in Opposition of the Joint Proposal ("JP") filed with the New York State Public Service Commission ("PSC" or the "Commission") by The Brooklyn Union Gas Company d/b/a National Grid NY and KeySpan Gas East Corporation d/b/a National Grid ("the Companies") and signatory parties in these proceedings on April 9, 2024.[1] As a nonprofit organization tasked with advocating on behalf of low-income utility customers, PULP strongly opposes the JP as filed in this case.

The impact of the rate increases proposed in the JP will harm customers, especially low-income customers, who are already struggling to afford their bills. While PULP appreciates the steps that parties have taken in considering consumer protections in this agreement, those included in the JP do not provide sufficient protection to vulnerable consumers and do not offset the incredible financial impacts those same customers will face. PULP will expand upon our concerns below.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The Companies filed their request for new rates on April 28, 2023. PULP and other parties engaged in discovery surrounding the filing. On August 31, 2023, PULP joined other parties in filing direct testimony the purpose of which was to: (1) provide evidence that the delivery rate increases requested by the Companies would jeopardize low-income customers; (2) make recommendations to reduce the scale of the Companies requests; and (3) propose improvements to the customer service experience of vulnerable customers. On September 19, 2023, PULP filed corrections to our testimony.

[1] The Signatory Parties in these proceedings are: The Brooklyn Union Gas Company d/b/a National Grid NY, KeySpan Gas East Corporation d/b/a National Grid, Department of Public Service Staff, Environmental Defense Fund, NRG Energy, Inc., and the City of New York.

On September 22, 2023, PULP and other parties filed Rebuttal Testimony. On September 26, 2023, the Companies filed with the parties and the Secretary to the Commission a Notice of Impending Settlement Negotiations. Settlement negotiations began on October 11, 2023, and continued through March 2024. A joint proposal was filed by the Companies on April 9, 2024.

PULP now submits this Statement in Opposition, which sets forth our basis and rationale for urging the Administrative Law Judges ("ALJs") to recommend to the Commission that the JP be rejected or modified to reflect the recommendations discussed below. PULP notes that silence on any matter contained in the JP does not indicate PULP's support. PULP reserves the right to discuss additional matters in future statements, briefs, or during a future Evidentiary Hearing.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

According to the Commission's Settlement Guidelines, "[a]ll Commission decisions, including those pertaining to proposed settlements, must be, and appear to be, just, reasonable, and in the public interest."[2] The elements considered in determining the "public interest" include:

1. consistency with the law and regulatory economic, social and environmental State and Commission policies;
2. whether the terms of the joint proposal compare favorably with the likely result of a fully litigated case and produce a result within the range of reasonable outcomes;

[2] Cases 90-M-0225 and 92-M-0138, Opinion, Order and Resolution Adopting Settlement Procedures and Guidelines (Mar. 24, 1992), at 30.

3. whether the joint proposal fairly balances the interests of ratepayers, investors and the long-term soundness of the utility; and
4. whether the joint proposal provides a rational basis for the Commission's decision.

Additionally, Commissioners are guided in their assessment by two additional factors. First, the completeness of the record, and second, whether the settlement is contested.[3]

ARGUMENT

THE BILL IMPACTS ASSOCIATED WITH THE JOINT PROPOSAL ARE NOT JUST, REASONABLE, OR WITHIN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

If approved by the Commission, the JP will result in rate impacts that are untenable for residential customers. This is especially true of low-income residential customers who are not currently enrolled in the Energy Affordability Program ("EAP"). A number of factors including the negotiated Return on Equity ("ROE"), revenue requirements, and insufficient earnings sharing contribute to rate impacts that will harm residential customers.

I. The Bill Impacts Associated with the Joint Proposal Fall Out of Line with Regulatory Economic and Social Policies of the State and the Commission

The Public Service Commission has long recognized the important policy objective of "protecting access to energy services for those who may face financial difficulties."[4] KEDNY and KEDLI customers are already struggling immensely to keep up with their bills. The bill impacts proposed under the JP would exacerbate the issue of affordability and decrease access to energy services for low-income New Yorkers. As of March 2024, 194,915 residential KEDNY customers and 50,150 residential KEDLI customers were sixty or more days behind on their bills.[5] The amount owed to KEDNY by customers in March 2024 was $153,780,726, and at KEDLI, the total was $40,215,904. That same month, 251 residential KEDNY customer accounts were terminated for non-payment and 151 were terminated for nonpayment at KEDLI.[6]

Based on data included in the American Community Survey for 2021, there were 340,000 KEDNY and 89,000 KEDLI households whose income falls below the Home Energy Assistance Program ("HEAP") eligibility limit, categorizing them as low-income.[7] However, for various reasons, only an estimated 16 percent of these customers are enrolled in KEDLI's EAP program and only 44 percent of these customers are enrolled in KEDNY's.[8] While low-income customers enrolled in EAP will be shielded from some of the burdens associated with the potential rate increases, low-income customers who are not enrolled, as well as moderate income customers, will experience incredible unaffordability.

In the first year of the proposed rate plan alone, average usage residential customers could see between 8.5 percent to 134.41 percent delivery bill increases depending on whether they are EAP enrolled and whether they are KEDLI or KEDNY customers.[9] Average usage non- EAP customers will face delivery bill impacts between 24.49 percent and 27.81 percent.[10] Because many low-income customers are not enrolled in EAP, this subset of customers will face these bill impacts without the assistance an EAP discount might provide, which could leave them at greater risk of falling into arrears or facing loss of service.

[9] See, Appendices 1 and 2, Company Response to PULP-061 and PULP-062 (indicating that average usage KEDNY Tier 3 EAP heating customers would experience a 134.41 percent delivery bill percentage increase as a result of this JP. The IR responses note that delivery bill percentage increases may not be reflective of a typical EAP customer for reasons including an individual customer's usage, the calculation of EAP discounts being based on averages, and the fact that KEDNY EAP discounts were impacted by the 2 percent cap in accordance with the EAP Order. The information provided in the IRs reflect rates that would be effective June 1 with a make-whole provision to April 1, and is not reflective of any additional compression of rates if an Order is not issued prior to June 1.)

II. The ROE Included in the Joint Proposal is not in the Public Interest Because in Practice, a Fixed ROE has the Potential to Harm Ratepayers

The harmful bill impacts discussed above are driven in part by an ROE of 9.35 percent that is set for the entire three-year term of the rate plan. Each basis point of the ROE in this case (i.e., the difference between 9.34 percent and 9.35 percent) is equivalent to revenues of $490,000 for KEDNY and $316,000 for KEDLI in Rate Year One.[11] These amounts increase to $580,000 and $375,000, respectively, in Rate Year Three.[12] Cumulatively, the ROE proffered in this JP will permit the Companies to collect millions of dollars from households that are already facing significant financial hardship. Absent a mechanism for recalculating the ROE for this case on an annual basis, the Commission should modify the JP to include an ROE set at the lower of (i) 9.35 percent or (ii) the result of Staff's ROE Model[13] run with the most recent available data.

Signatory parties will likely argue that the ROE represents a negotiated agreement that will enable the companies to attract the capital necessary to provide safe and reliable service at just and reasonable rates. Additionally, signatory parties have often argued that locking in an ROE for a multi-year rate plan is just as big a risk to the company as it would be to customers.[14]

[13] "Staff ROE Model" refers to the methodology by which DPS Staff arrives at a recommended ROE in an individual rate case. See, e.g., Cases 23-G-0225 et. al., Testimony of Kwaku Duah, (Sept. 1, 2023) at 100: "I determined my recommended 9.1 percent cost of equity by weighting: (1) the 8.52 percent average DCF result from my proxy group two-thirds; and (2) the 10.18 percent average of the two CAPM results one-third."

Recent history has not borne out this risk. In his initial and rebuttal testimonies in these proceedings, PULP witness Yates presented his analysis of KEDNY and KEDLI ratepayer costs attributable to fixed, authorized ROEs across the span of three rate cases.[15] The results of his analysis suggest that the Companies' ratepayers incurred up to $481 million more in the cost of their gas service because of an authorized ROE that was locked in for several years rather than updated to account for changing economic factors.[16]

A Joint Proposal that perpetuates a mechanism that consistently overcharges ratepayers to the benefit of a utility's investors cannot be said to "fairly balance" the interests of ratepayers, investors, and the long-term soundness of the utility. To partially rectify this historic imbalance, the Commission should require that DPS Staff re-run its ROE Model with the most recent available data, adopting the output of the model as the new authorized ROE for the Companies if it falls below 9.35 percent.

[14] See, e.g., Cases 22-E-0064 et. al., Staff Statement in Reply, Proceeding on Motion of the Commission as to the Rates, Charges, Rules and Regulations of Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc. for Electric Service (Apr. 5, 2023) at 20: "Given that multi-year rate plans generally include a stay-out premium to reflect the inherent risk assumed by the utility in foregoing general rate relief for at least two years, a 9.25% ROE is reasonable."; Cases 22-E-0317 et. al., Staff Statement in Support of the Joint Proposal, Proceeding on Motion of the Commission as to the Rates, Charges, Rules and Regulations of New York State Electric & Gas Corporation for Electric Service (Jun. 27, 2023) at 21: "As opposed to a single rate year, the extended term of the Joint Proposal inherently carries more financial risk as investors are subject to additional risk that economic conditions will change and the actual cost of capital could increase during the three-year term."

III. The Joint Proposal Unfairly Prioritizes the Interests of Investors Over Those of Ratepayers by Limiting Earning Sharing

The terms of the Earning Sharing Mechanism ("ESM") included in the Joint Proposal are unreasonably weighted in favor of the Companies' shareholders over customers and should be modified by the Commission.

Under the Joint Proposal, if the Companies' ROE exceeds 9.85 percent in a given rate year—an amount already 50 basis points above the allowed ROE of 9.35 percent—shareholders and customers will evenly "share" the excess earnings. If the ROE exceeds 10.35 percent in a given rate year, customers will receive 75 percent of the excess earnings. Finally, if the ROE exceeds 10.85 percent in a given rate year, customers will receive 90 percent of the excess earnings.[17]

It is important to highlight that at all tiers of the ESM—even the initial tier in which the excess earnings are shared "evenly" between ratepayers and the Companies—the amounts awarded to customers are set to be deferred to pay down future costs. The same is not true for the Companies and their shareholders. It is only in the second and third tiers of the ESM, when the ROE exceeds 100 basis points above the allowed ROE, that the Companies will need to set aside half of their excess earnings "to reduce regulatory asset balances associated with Site Investigation and Remediation ("SIR") activities."[18] This language matches in substance that of the Companies' 2019 Joint Proposal.[19] However, costs associated with SIR activities—costs that will be borne almost exclusively by customers—have grown considerably since the Companies' most recent rate case.

[17] Supra note 11, at 22.
[19] Cases 19-G-0309 et. al., Joint Proposal (May 14, 2021) at 39.

In his initial testimony in these proceedings, PULP witness Yates discussed this concerning increase in the balance of KEDNY's Deferred Environmental Costs account.[20] As of 2022, KEDNY estimated that it will need to spend $1.675 billion on future environmental clean-up costs.[21] This massive financial burden—an amount unequaled by any other utility in the state—is set to fall solely on the shoulders of KEDNY's ratepayers, absent 50 percent of KEDNY's share of excess earnings under the ESM. These extraordinary and unprecedented costs warrant a deviation from the terms of the current rate plan.

In its 2012 Order Concerning Costs for Site Investigation and Remediation ("SIR Order"), the Commission established a requirement (1) that utilities file annual SIR reports, (2) that the utilities formalize and file with the Commission an inventory of SIR cost containment "best practices," and (3) that in future rate filings a utility provide sworn testimony (a) that its remediation process is in compliance with applicable timetables and requirements, (b) discussing its SIR cost control efforts, and (c) indicating the results of any internal process that it may have conducted with respect to reviewing its SIR procedures.[22] The proceeding that ultimately resulted in the Commission's SIR Order was originally established "to examine, on a generic basis, the treatment of costs for utilities' [SIR] of hazardous waste, primarily at manufactured gas plant (MGP) sites."[23] In establishing the inquiry, the Commission "anticipated the growth of these costs and sough to mitigate the concomitant burden on ratepayers[.]"[24] While the Commission ultimately declined to establish a generic policy regarding SIR expense allocation, it explicitly retained "the flexibility to tailor the rate treatment of SIR costs to the concrete conditions of each utility."[25] Moreover, the Commission recognized that "sharing of some proportion may serve as an incentive to constrain SIR costs for utilities that appear to need such incentive."[26]

In light of the historically high cost of KEDNY's future environmental remediation, the Commission should exercise the flexibility it retained in its 2012 SIR Order by altering the terms of the Joint Proposal to require that both KEDNY's share, and the customer share of earnings in excess of the authorized ROE be used to pay down the Deferred Environmental Costs included in Account 182.3.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons discussed above, PULP submits our Statement of Opposition. PULP urges the ALJs to recommend to the PSC that it adopt the above modifications to the JP in any order resulting from these proceedings.

The bill tables presented above depict a snapshot of average usage for an Energy Affordability Program ("EAP") customer. It is important to note, however, that these tables are not necessarily reflective of the average bill increase a typical EAP customer may experience for the following reasons:

- The average bill assumes, for KEDLI, as an example, 79 therms per month. Over the course of the Rate Year, more than half of the months have usage lower than 79 therms, however.

- The calculation of annual EAP discounts is based on a hybrid average low-income bill that combines an historical three-year weighted monthly average commodity bill with a forecast year delivery bill and assumes three-year historic average usage. As a result, there will be differences when comparing EAP discounts that are intended to keep the average bill at the 6% energy burden and what customers may actually experience throughout that Rate Year depending on actual usage each month.

- Specific to KEDNY, the calculation of Heating EAP discounts for Rate Years One through Three was limited to the 2% budget cap in accordance with the EAP Order. As a result, the 6% energy burden was not able to be maintained which is why there are higher monthly bill impacts for KEDNY Heating EAP customers.

- For KEDLI, the 2% budget cap was not a factor.

The information above reflects rates that would be effective June 1 with a make-whole provision to April 1, and is not reflective of any additional compression of rates if an Order is not issued prior to June 1.
